DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-13, drawn to a toner, classified in class 430, subclass 108.4.
- II. Claims 14-16, drawn to an imaging process, classified in class 430, subclass 124.
- III. Claims 17 and 18, drawn to a process cartridge and apparatus, classified in class 399, subclass 222.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions I and II are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (MPEP § 806.05(h)). In the instant case the product as claimed can be used in another and materially different process such as exposing a photoadherent imaging member to light such that the member becomes less sticky in areas exposed to light but remains sticky in the unexposed areas, contacting the imaging member with toner to form a toner image in the unexposed areas, and applying a clear coversheet to the surface of the toned imaging member.

Inventions II and III are related as process and apparatus for its practice. The inventions are distinct if it can be shown that either: (1) the process as claimed can be practiced by another materially different apparatus or by hand, or (2) the apparatus as claimed can be used to practice another and materially different process. (MPEP § 806.05(e)). In this case the process can be practiced by hand, such as be rubbing the surface of the image bearing member with a cloth or fur to give the desired polarity charge on the member's surface, shining sunlight through a mask onto the charged imaging member, sprinkling toner onto the exposed member so that toner remains in the unexposed areas, hand pressing a receiver onto the surface of the toned imaging member to transfer the toner to the receiver, and fixing the image to the receiver by placing a sticky coversheet over the receiver.

Inventions I and III are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct from each other if they are shown to be separately usable. In the instant case, invention I has separate utility such as in the photoadherent imaging member process discussed above. See MPEP § 806.05(d). Note that the toner does not limit the process cartridge or image forming apparatus because it is a material worked upon by the apparatus and not a structural component of the apparatus.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
